THEY CELEBRATED

MISSOURIANS AT WASHINGTON
PICNICKED LAST SATURDAY.

REV. WILFLEY MADE TALK

Senator Reed Scores in First Big Contest—Taft Appreciates Democratic Assistance.

By VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., July 26.—The mills of the senate are grinding rapidly now. Last Saturday they ground out the reciprocity bill according to the announced program, and it goes up to the president today for his signature. This will be promptly affixed and it will only await the approval of Canada to become operative as a law. Canada is having the same opposition to the bill that was developed here. On the broad lines of national good it will no doubt be ratified, but it has much opposition there from individual and special interests which fear the effect of freer commerce with the United States.

The result of the passage of the reciprocity bill through the house and senate was the occasion of a unique development that has no parallel in American politics. While the president called this extra session of congress to consider and pass his reciprocity treaty, it had not the shadow of a chance to pass without Democratic support. The house is controlled by the Democrats, and in the senate the Republicans were hopelessly divided on the subject. Notwithstanding the fact that the bill was of Republican origin and the pet measure of the administration, the Democrats believed it was a step in the right direction, that it would vastly enlarge the field for marketing American products, that it would help the people to buy at an advantage things they need and to sell at an advantage things they do not need, and they stood almost solidly up to the rack and were counted in its favor.

In his appreciation of this unusual exhibition of statesmanship the president has issued a statement in which he warmly thanks the Democratic members of both house and senate for their assistance, and publicly commends them for their straightforward sincerity, their patriotic conduct and their refusal to "play politics," as he terms it. Congress has so long been dominated and controlled by small politics and gallery plays, while their enactments have been based upon special favors to special interests that it must have been refreshing to the president to see that some party could rise above these selfish considerations and lend their support to what they deemed would be helpful to the whole country, regardless of who was leader and where the proposition originated. Senator Gore aptly expressed their sentiments when he stated that he was not fastidious about leaders, but was willing in the fight for lower duties to follow any man who was going in his direction. He declared his bed was a low tariff, and he was willing to blow out the gas and crawl under the same political counterpane with any man who would repose upon that bed, even Penrose of Pennsylvania.

Senator James A. Reed won a notable victory a few days ago in the senate by securing the adoption of some important amendments to the publicity bill limiting the amounts that may be spent in congressional and senatorial campaigns and requiring an itemized list of both contributions and expenses to be filed with the house and senate. The proposition precipitated a considerable discussion involving constitutional law, some holding that as the house and senate are the sole judges of their membership, any law that would seek to define or limit their qualifications beyond the express provisions found in the constitution would be void and useless. The amendment, however, was added to the bill and will make it much stronger and more effective in those states where there are no state laws regulating such things. Senator Reed is rapidly taking a commanding position among his fellows in the senate. A new member is held in check by the conventional rules that require them to maintain a discreet silence for a considerable length of time, but he has edged into a number of important discussions, and in every case has made the older heads sit up and take notice.

Missourians in Washington to the number of nearly three hundred picnicked at Great Falls, Virginia, last Saturday. Great Falls is a picturesque resort in the woods, on the Potomac, about fifteen miles from Washington by trolley. It is an ideal place for a picnic. The weather was fine, the crowd congenial, the arrangements perfect, and, of course, everybody had a good time. There are people in Washington from every state in the Union, and Missouri has her share in all the various activities of the capital city. Some are in business, some employees in the departments and some employees of the house and senate. Of course, it is enough to say that they are Missourians, to know that they are live, energetic, big-hearted people. The picnic was under the auspices of the Missouri society, of which Congressman James T. Lloyd of the First district is president. The lady residents of the city prepared baskets of good things to eat, such as only Missouri women know how to prepare, and served it in a manner that would be creditable at a royal banquet. After dinner an appropriate address was delivered by Elder Earle Wilfley, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Christian church, followed by several musical numbers and the reading of the poem, "Missouri," by Mrs. Champ Clark. What with meeting old friends, forming new acquaintances, dancing, singing, swinging and viewing the beautiful scenery, the time for departure came all too soon, and it was a day long to be remembered.

DISCUSSION IS INVITED.

In the present campaign in Maryville for municipal ownership The Democrat-Forum desires to open its columns to the people for any discussion they have for or against the municipal ownership of the water plant. This question is one of the most important ones that ever confronted the city, and all voters should take enough interest so as to be able to cast his vote according to his best knowledge, be that for municipal ownership or against.

These letters or statements from the people discussing either side of the question will have to be signed, and they should be published before the eve of the election, so that if any questions are asked they can be answered before the election day arrives.

While The Democrat-Forum has an opinion of its own on this question, believing that municipal ownership would be the best thing, yet we are desirous of having the matter discussed in our columns so the people will thoroughly understand the question when they go to the polls to vote on Tuesday, August 15.

BEAUTIFUL FUNERAL FOR MISS GATES

The funeral of Miss Laura Gates, who died at her home, west of Maryville, Tuesday evening, was held at the First Christian church Friday afternoon and was a beautiful ceremony. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and the casket was laden with the rarest flowers. The Young Ladies Mission class, of which the deceased was president at the time of her death, occupied seats in a group. A quartet composed of Mrs. F. P. Robinson, Miss Phyllis Saylor, Miss Litta Roelofson and Mrs. I. E. Bailey sang "Abide With Me," "Just Beyond" and "Rock of Ages," accompanied on the pipe organ by Mrs. Harry Irwin.

The pallbearers were Newt Hagins, F. P. Robinson, E. C. Curfman, J. R. Brink, Arch Frank and Harry Todd. Rev. Claude J. Miller spoke pleasing and comforting words to the family and friends. His text was taken from Revelations 14:13.

"Our hearts were grieved in the brotherhood loss of leaders in Israel in recent days, but now we come to sadder moments in the loss of one from our own family circle. Laura Gates is called up higher."

"We are tempted to question the goodness of God in hours of trial. Why was it necessary for Laura Gates to leave us, a life so true and unselfish? Some would answer, 'She was too ambitious and disobeyed the natural laws.' Others would say, 'It was the hand of God. His servant had worthily wrought and was called to her reward.'"

"We cannot answer all the mysteries of life and death, but we can hear the challenge of a character four-square for God. Laura Gates has left a monument that will endure. She has built in human hearts."

"Chemists and other scientists have sought for centuries to discover a compound of earthly ingredients which would build a monument that would stand the storms of winter and the heat of summer. They have not found it. Laura Gates found it when she found the 'pearl of great price,' the Saviour, the man of Galilee. Other monuments will crumble; this will endure. Character is eternal."

"Sir Christopher Wren, the architect of St. Paul's cathedral, placed over the archway this inscription: 'If you want to see my monument look around.' He had given homes to the poor and blessed humankind. If you would see the monument of Laura Gates look around. President of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle, a life always ready to do the Master's bidding."

"Her work must go on. God will raise up another. Not a Laura Gates, for no one could exactly fill her place, but God's work must be carried on. A Joshua will take the place of a Moses."

"We go to the grave of our friend and say, a sister is dead, but angels gathering around the throne proclaim, a soul is born into the kingdom of light and peace. Laura Gates has put on the larger life."

She was laid to rest in Miriam cemetery, a large crowd witnessing the burial.

Missouri and Folk.

William Marion Reedy, the brilliant editor of the St. Louis Mirror, has this to say of the Folk-for-president movement:

"A Folk-for-president organization has been formed in Missouri. There is not much it can do but this: Send to the editors and the non-machine politicians of the Democracy of the nation a simple statement of what Mr. Folk has done as circuit attorney of St. Louis and governor of Missouri. There is a record against which nothing to be urged by Harmon or Wilson or any other possibility can prevail. It is Democratic—every entry upon the docket. It is progressively Democratic. It is in absolute accord with popular government and ringingly anti-monopolistic. It is a record that will give all the gangsters the collywobles. And when 'they' say the record is all right but Folk is not an expedient candidate, there's this answer: Missouri has not been safely Democratic since Folk has been off the ticket. Missouri is a doubtful state. Folk was the last Democrat to carry it for governor, and he did it when Roosevelt carried it for president. He was beaten for the United States senate, but his name on the ticket saved the state to the party. The last elected senator from Missouri won because he declared for Folk. And Folk is not alone a local celebrity. He is nationally known as a Democrat of Democrats at all points whereat the Democracy of Harmon and Wilson is doubtful. Folk has more than a show in the running. He will be nominated if his friends go with his record to the people and not to the politicians."

Chautauqua Features

Palmer's Kaffir Boys Choir

This company has won the admiration and wonder of audiences all over the world. The boys are all from savage tribes of Africa that have been civilized by the English. Their director and trainer, Mr. Palmer, was for a number of years a noted organist and Boy Choir trainer of England. He had to leave his native country on account of failing health. He went to British Africa and there discovered the wonderful sweetness and quality of the Kaffir boys voices, and organized this company to tour the world. He is under a heavy bond to the British government to return these boys safely to their homes after certain time. They will sing four different times at the Chautauqua, and while you are there listening to them you will hear Dr. Beckes, Father MacLeod and Thomas Brooks Fletcher.

This is only one of the excellent musical companies that will perform at the Chautauqua. Never before in the history of the Maryville Chautauqua has there been so many or such good companies engaged. Not one speaker but has proven his ability to please at this or some other good Chautauqua. Not one cheap entertainer or musical company. And all of this excellent program may be heard for the small price of $1.50 adults or $1.00 children. Remember that the number of $1.50 tickets is limited and they must be bought before or on Aug. 5th. Just one more week. Season tickets are transferable in the family. ASK TAFT TO VETO WOOL BILL

Number of Senators and Representatives Call at White House.

HOUSE DEMOCRATS ARE MIFFED

Indications That Conference Committee Will Not Accept La Follette Compromise Without Amending It. Cotton Bill Up in House.

Washington, July 29.—President Taft was urged by several standpat Republican leaders of the senate and house to veto any wool revision bill that is likely to be agreed upon in the forthcoming conference on the house and La Follette compromise woolen measures.

Democratic leaders in the house formally conferred over plans to meet the senate's move in brushing aside the house wool bill and passing the La Follette compromise measure through a Democratic-progressive Republican coalition.

General sentiment among the Democratic representatives seemed to favor a compromise between the La Follette bill as it passed the senate and the house bill along the lines of a 36 per cent ad valorem on raw wool. A Republican counter move to concur with the senate bill was expected. This, however, would be overwhelmingly voted down by the house. The house Democrats are almost unanimous in the belief that a bill will be agreed upon in conference.

Urged to Veto Bill.

Senator Crane (Mass.), Representative Weeks (Mass.) and Representative Bartholdt (Mo.) were among the callers who advised the president to veto any wool bill likely to come from the forthcoming conference.

It was their belief, they said, that Mr. Taft would not injure himself in the eyes of the country by vetoing a wool revision bill not based on scientific data furnished by the tariff board. The congressmen advanced the idea that the senate coalition of insurgents and Democrats was an attempt to put the president "in a hole" politically. Executive disapproval of a measure designed for such a purpose, they told the president, could not work to his discredit.

While the president himself maintains silence as to what course he will pursue if a wool revision bill is presented to him, the intimations are stronger that he will not hesitate to use the veto. This would put an end to all attempts to revise schedule K and would serve as a deterrent to revision of other tariff schedules at this time.

The house received the new compromise bill from the senate. No action was taken, the bill being laid on the speaker's table and the cotton tariff revision debate proceeded with.

REMSEN BOARD INQUIRY

House Committee Probing Body That Overruled Dr. Wiley's Decision.

Washington, July 29.—Investigation of the cost and work of the Remsen board, which reversed Dr. Harvey W. Wiley of the bureau of chemistry on the benzate of soda pure food decision, was begun before the house committee on expenditures of the department of agriculture. The same committee will also investigate the recent charges against Dr. Wiley. Two bull terriers, four monkeys, eight dog cages and an electric griddle, one horseshoe and a chiffoner were purchased during the last four years by the Remsen board, according to the testimony of Chief Zappane of the accounts division of the department of agriculture.

Representative Higgins of Connecticut of the committee insisted that the itemized expense accounts furnished the committee be printed before the committee started the hearings. Nothing further was accomplished and the committee adjourned till Tuesday.

GIVE DETAILS OF ILLINOIS POLITICS

Mason and Stringer Testify in Lorimer Inquiry.

Washington, July 29.—Two senatorial aspirants from Illinois, William E. Mason, a Republican, and Lawrence B. Stringer, a Democrat, went on the stand before the senate Lorimer committee. Neither threw much light on the methods by which William Lorimer defeated them for the senatorial toga, but each made valuable contributions to the story of how the political game is run in Illinois.

In an optimistic way, former Senator William Mason told how the senatorial bee buzzed around him so long that he developed a chronic case of senatorial ambition.

Pessimistic and disheartened the Democratic candidate for senator in Illinois in 1909 expressed the opinion that his party in Illinois lacked cohesive force generally.

Mr. Stringer told of his fight "in splendid isolation" in the Illinois legislature for election to the senate, and of his never failing hope that he would land in the senate by an "accident." He gave some testimony about a "fourteen club" reputed to have been in the process of organization at one time to elect Hopkins to the senate by the use of money, and cited Charles E. Luke as a Democratic member of the legislature who said he had been invited to become a member.

Just how it happened that fifty three Democrats voted for Lorimer making "the Democratic party an adjunct to a faction of the Republican party," Mr. Stringer testified he did not know, although he said he had an opinion, which the committee did not ask him to express. He gave the name of E. O. Phillips, then a reporter for the Chicago Record-Herald, as having told him once he had heard that a fund was being raised to elect Lorimer.

FIFTEEN PERSONS KILLED IN WRECK

Excursion and Passenger Trains Collide on Maine Road.

THIRTY OR FORTY INJURED.

Others Are Buried Beneath the Debris of Wreck and Both Firemen Are Missing—Trains Meet Head-On as Result of Confusion of Orders.

Bangor, Me., July 29.—Fifteen persons were reported killed in a head-on collision between an excursion train on the Bangor and Aroostock railroad and the midnight train from Van Buren to Bangor. Thirty or forty persons are known to have been injured and it is thought several others are beneath the wreckage. It is reported that the two trains met head-on as a result of the confusion of orders and that the excursion train was running on the time of the regular passenger train.

The smoking car of the excursion train, next to the engine, was telescoped by the tender. All the passengers in this car, most of whom were members of the Presque Isle band, are reported killed or badly wounded.

Engineer P. W. Garcelon of the excursion train was instantly killed. Engineer William Orr of the regular train was badly hurt. Both firemen are missing.

HANNA CALLED AS WITNESS

Tells of Purchase of Tennessee Coal and Iron by Steel Corporation.

New York, July 29.—No ulterior motives lurked behind the taking over of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the United States Steel corporation during the financial panic of 1907, in the opinion of L. C. Hanna of Cleveland, one of the syndicate owners of the Tennessee concern before the merger, who spent the day on the witness stand, before the steel trust investigating committee of the house of representatives.

That such motives had been suggested, Mr. Hanna, who is a brother of the late Senator Mark Hanna, admitted, but he never had credited the reports. He believed the transaction was necessary to avert the failure of the New York banking and brokerage firm of Moore & Schley, who held too much Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral for loans, and to avert widespread of threatening business disaster.

Dun's Review of Trade.

New York, July 29.—Dun's Weekly Review says: A variety of conflicting developments affect trade conditions, among them the passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill, unsettlement over the outcome of the negotiations touching the adjustment of affairs in Morocco and the decision by the interstate commerce commission in the Spokane rate and similar cases. These influences, however, are mainly of importance to their relations to the future. Moderate improvements mark conditions in iron and steel, although in eastern territory pig iron buying is of restricted volume.

BRITISH PREMIER EASES TENSION

Peaceable Settlement of Affairs in Morocco Probable.

TRYING DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS.

France and Germany Will Attempt to Agree Without Aid of Great Britain. French War Preparations Give Rise to Apprehension.

Paris, July 29.—Greater optimism prevailed at the capital, though it was admitted that the negotiations with Germany regarding the Moroccan affair remain difficult. The statement by Premier Asquith in the British house of commons and Premier Caillaux's advice to the French to keep cool and be prudent relieved the tension at a moment when relief was most needed and the discreet military preparations of the government were giving rise to the apprehension that war was not impossible.

These preparations included orders to the cavalry to be ready for the field at the first signal, the heavy provisioning of the forts on the eastern frontier by special supply trains run out of Paris at night and the mustering of all regiments to their full quota.

It is understood that Baron Kiderlin-Waechter, the German foreign secretary, who is conducting the negotiations with Jules Cambon, the French ambassador at Berlin, has modified his original program and is now asking for a part instead of the whole coast of French Congo, but at the same time naming other conditions which France would find difficulty in accepting. Nevertheless, there is a strong feeling that a solution will be found.

The morning papers welcome Mr. Asquith's speech as clarifying the situation and hastening a settlement. The Figaro understands that Emperor William told a personal friend that the Moroccan question could be settled amicably with France.

France Will Reorganize Army.

Rambouillet, France, July 29.—At the conclusion of the cabinet meeting, when President Fallieres presided, two official announcements were made. The first was that Foreign Secretary de Selves, in explaining to his colleagues the external political situation, had said that the pour parlers between France and Germany were proceeding normally. The second announcement was that the cabinet had decided on the reorganization of the army, which represents "the crowning of the military work pursued by the republic for the last forty years."

Berlin, July 29.—It is believed in official circles that France and Germany will be able to untie the African knot by direct negotiations and without opening the doors to the participation of Great Britain and the other powers. Optimism, however, is not manifested. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and Foreign Secretary Baron Kiderlin-Waechter left to join Emperor William, who arrived at Swinemunde from his cruise in northern waters.

Market Men Plan Outing.

Ottumwa, Ia., July 29.—Three hundred Ottumwa grocers and butchers will close up shop Aug. 10 and journey to Burlington to hold their annual picnic.

Forty.

Forty is the age at which a man is supposed to be in his prime.

Forty is old to a man of thirty and young to a man of fifty.

At forty some men quit sowing wild oats and others begin.

Forty is an imaginary line between youth and old age.

Some men are forty at twenty and some at sixty.

At forty a man is supposed to have reached years of discretion and generally he has, unless some woman finds it otherwise.

There are men of forty who believe it is unlucky for one to look over one's left shoulder at the new moon.

Men have been grandfathers at forty, and yet found it hard to obtain credit.

When a man is forty he begins to fear he may have married too early.

Forty is the age at which most men find it necessary to call for help when they try to put on their evening clothes.

At forty a man may continue to hope that there are hair restorers which will restore.

Mean Reply.

"Talk about man," exclaimed the suffragist. "What has man ever done for woman?"

"He furnished her with a model she's trying hard to imitate," came a voice from the rear of the hall.—Boston Transcript.

Open Question.

"How long can a man go without air?"

"I can't say. The longest Pullman trip I ever took occupied seven days."

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Walker went to Kansas City Saturday morning for a two weeks' visit with friends.

SAGE AND SULPHUR CURES DANDRUFF

Restores Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Itching Scalp Quickly Stopped.

This applies to Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, for if it does not do exactly what is claimed for it, the sales would naturally drop off. However, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy does "make good," as evidenced by its daily increasing sales. Druggists say that this preparation gives the best satisfaction of any hair remedy ever sold. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It removes dandruff, strengthens the hair, gives new life to dull or parched hair and gradually restores gray hair to natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

(Successor to the Maryville Republican)

VOLUME 2.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1911.

NO. 48.

THEY CELEBRATED

MISSOURIANS AT WASHINGTON
PICNICKED LAST SATURDAY.

REV. WILFLEY MADE TALK

Senator Reed Scores in First Big Contest—Taft Appreciates Democratic Assistance.

By VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., July 26.—The mills of the senate are grinding rapidly now. Last Saturday they ground out the reciprocity bill according to the announced program, and it goes up to the president today for his signature. This will be promptly affixed and it will only await the approval of Canada to become operative as a law. Canada is having the same opposition to the bill that was developed here. On the broad lines of national good it will no doubt be ratified, but it has much opposition there from individual and special interests which fear the effect of freer commerce with the United States.

The result of the passage of the reciprocity bill through the house and senate was the occasion of a unique development that has no parallel in American politics. While the president called this extra session of congress to consider and pass his reciprocity treaty, it had not the shadow of a chance to pass without Democratic support. The house is controlled by the Democrats, and in the senate the Republicans were hopelessly divided on the subject. Notwithstanding the fact that the bill was of Republican origin and the pet measure of the administration, the Democrats believed it was a step in the right direction, that it would vastly enlarge the field for marketing American products, that it would help the people to buy at an advantage things they need and to sell at an advantage things they do not need, and they stood almost solidly up to the rack and were counted in its favor.

In his appreciation of this unusual exhibition of statesmanship the president has issued a statement in which he warmly thanks the Democratic members of both house and senate for their assistance, and publicly commends them for their straightforward sincerity, their patriotic conduct and their refusal to "play politics," as he terms it. Congress has so long been dominated and controlled by small politics and gallery plays, while their enactments have been based upon special favors to special interests that it must have been refreshing to the president to see that some party could rise above these selfish considerations and lend their support to what they deemed would be helpful to the whole country, regardless of who was leader and where the proposition originated. Senator Gore aptly expressed their sentiments when he stated that he was not fastidious about leaders, but was willing in the fight for lower duties to follow any man who was going in his direction. He declared his bid was a low tariff, and he was willing to blow out the gas and crawl under the same political counterpane with any man who would repose upon that bed, even Penrose of Pennsylvania.

Senator James A. Reed won a notable victory a few days ago in the senate by securing the adoption of some important amendments to the publicity bill limiting the amounts that may be spent in congressional and senatorial campaigns and requiring an itemized list of both contributions and expenses to be filed with the house and senate. The proposition precipitated a considerable discussion involving constitutional law, some holding that as the house and senate are the sole judges of their membership, any law that would seek to define or limit their qualifications beyond the express provisions found in the constitution would be void and useless. The amendment, however, was added to the bill and will make it much stronger and more effective in those states where there are no state laws regulating such things. Senator Reed is rapidly taking a commanding position among his fellows in the senate. A new member is held in check by the conventional rules that require them to maintain a discreet silence for a considerable length of time, but he has edged into a number of important discussions, and in every case has made the older heads sit up and take notice.

Missourians in Washington to the number of nearly three hundred picnicked at Great Falls, Virginia, last Saturday. Great Falls is a picturesque resort in the woods, on the Potomac, about fifteen miles from Washington by trolley. It is an ideal place for a picnic. The weather was fine, the crowd congenial, the arrangements perfect, and, of course, everybody had a good time. There are people in Washington from every state in the Union, and Missouri has her share in all the various activities of the capital city. Some are in business, some employes in the departments and some employees of the house and senate. Of course, it is enough to say that they are Missourians, to know that they are live, energetic, big-hearted people. The picnic was under the auspices of the Missouri society, of which Congressman James T. Lloyd of the First district is president. The lady residents of the city prepared baskets of good things to eat, such as only Missouri women know how to prepare, and served it in a manner that would be creditable at a royal banquet. After dinner an appropriate address was delivered by Elder Earle Wilfley, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Christian church, followed by several musical numbers and the reading of the poem, "Missouri," by Mrs. Champ Clark. What with meeting old friends, forming new acquaintances, dancing, singing, swinging and viewing the beautiful scenery, the time for departure came all too soon, and it was a day long to be remembered.

P. F. Rowlison, the manager, who will be in charge of the business here, has spent practically his entire life in the business, having been several years in Washington, Idaho, Oregon and British Columbia, where he has been very successful. He has been two months with the Jesse French Piano company of St. Louis, and the Maryville store will be a branch store of that institution. Beside Northwestern Missouri he expects to cover the territory of central Kansas. They have thirty pianos on the floor, including the grand and player pianos. Maryville will be the distributing point for this section of the country.

They have secured the services of Miss Cleo Masoner, lately of San Antonio, Texas, who is making her home in Maryville with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Seal of South Vine street, and she will assist Mr. Rowlison in the store as saleslady and pianist.

Mr. Rowlison is from Roanoke, Va., but has traveled extensively in the United States.

Two former Maryville young men are with the Jesse French company in St. Louis—Charles F. Lippman, sales manager, and Will A. Lippman, secretary and treasurer of the company—and they are interested in the Maryville store.

Pretty souvenirs were given to the visitors all day Saturday at their opening.

Charles F. Lippman of St. Louis attended the opening of the company's store in the city Saturday.

Miss Alice Carter of Pickering came to Maryville Saturday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Rol Hosmer.

Mrs. Bert Hackett and daughter, Marion, who have been guests of W. C. Pierce and family, on North Main street, went to Richmond, Mo., for a visit, after which they will return to their home in Walla Walla, Wash.

Miss Lula Moody, a Normal student, is confined to her home with a sprained ankle, which she received Thursday night while jumping from a buggy at the Wabash depot, where she went to meet a friend, Miss Marie Bond, who was returning from a visit with friends at Graham.

All are cordially invited to attend the mystery social at the First M. E. church Saturday night.

DISCUSSION IS INVITED.

In the present campaign in Maryville for municipal ownership The Democrat-Forum desires to open its columns to the people for any discussion they have for or against the municipal ownership of the water plant.
This question is one of the most important ones that ever confronted the city, and all voters should take enough interest so as to be able to cast his vote according to his best knowledge, be that for municipal ownership or against.

These letters or statements from the people discussing either side of the question will have to be signed, and they should be published before the eve of the election, so that if any questions are asked they can be answered before the election day arrives.

While The Democrat-Forum has an opinion of its own on this question, believing that municipal ownership would be the best thing, yet we are desirous of having the matter discussed in our columns so the people will thoroughly understand the question when they go to the polls to vote on Tuesday, August 15.

Miss Margaret Stafford, a teacher in the schools of St. Joseph, who has

BEAUTIFUL FUNERAL FOR MISS GATES

The funeral of Miss Laura Gates, who died at her home, west of Maryville, Tuesday evening, was held at the First Christian church Friday afternoon and was a beautiful ceremony. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and the casket was laden with the rarest flowers. The Young Ladies Mission class, of which the deceased was president at the time of her death, occupied seats in a group. A quartet composed of Mrs.
F. P. Robinson, Miss Phyllis Saylor,
Miss Litta Roclafson and Mrs. J. E.
Bailey sang "Abide With Me," "Just Beyond" and "Rock of Ages," accompanied on the pipe organ by Mrs.
Harry Irwin.

The pallbearers were Newt Hagins,
F. P. Robinson, E. C. Curfman, J. R.
Brink, Arch Frank and Harry Todd.
Rev. Claude J. Miller spoke pleasing and comforting words to the family and friends. His text was taken from Revelations 14:13.

"Our hearts were grieved in the brotherhood loss of leaders in Israel in recent days, but now we come to sadder moments in the loss of one from our own family circle. Laura Gates is called up higher."

"We are tempted to question the goodness of God in hours of trial.
Why was it necessary for Laura Gates to leave us, a life so true and unsullured? Some would answer, 'She was too ambitious and disobeyed the natural laws.' Others would say, 'It was the hand of God. His servant had worthily wrought and was called to her reward.'"

"We cannot answer all the mysteries of life and death, but we can hear the challenge of a character four-square for God. Laura Gates has left a monument that will endure. She has builded in human hearts."

"Chemists and other scientists have sought for centuries to discover a compound of earthly ingredients which would build a monument that would stand the storms of winter and the heat of summer. They have not found it. Laura Gates found it when she found the 'pearl of great price,' the Saviour, the man of Galilee. Other monuments will crumble; this will endure. Character is eternal."

"Sir Christopher Wren, the architect of St. Paul's cathedral, placed over the archway this inscription:
'If you want to see my monument look around.' He had given homes to the poor and blessed humankind. If you would see the monument of Laura Gates look around. President of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle, a life always ready to do the Master's bidding."

"Her work must go on. God will raise up another. Not a Laura Gates, for no one could exactly fill her place, but God's work must be carried on. A Joshua will take the place of a Moses.
'We go to the grave of our friend and say, a sister is dead, but angels gathering around the throne proclaim, a soul is born into the kingdom of light and peace. Laura Gates has put on the larger life.'"

She was laid to rest in Miriam cemetery, a large crowd witnessing the burial.

Missouri and Folk.

William Marion Reedy, the brilliant editor of the St. Louis Mirror, has this to say of the Folk-for-president movement:

"A Folk-for-president organization has been formed in Missouri. There is not much it can do but this: Send to the editors and the non-machine politicians of the Democracy of the nation a simple statement of what Mr.
Folk has done as circuit attorney of St. Louis and governor of Missouri.
There is a record against which nothing to be urged by Harmon or Wilson or any other possibility can prevail.
It is Democratic—every entry upon the docket. It is progressively Democratic. It is in absolute accord with popular government and ringingly anti-monopolistic. It is a record that will give all the gangsters the colly-wobbles. And when 'they' say the record is all right but Folk is not an expedient candidate, there's this answer: Missouri has not been safely Democratic since Folk has been off the ticket. Missouri is a doubtful state. Folk was the last Democrat to carry it for governor, and he did it when Roosevelt carried it for president. He was beaten for the United States senate, but his name on the ticket saved the state to the party.
The last elected senator from Missouri won because he declared for Folk. And Folk is not alone a local celebrity. He is nationally known as a Democrat of Democrats at all points whereat the Democracy of Harmon and Wilson is doubtful. Folk has more than a show in the running. He will be nominated if his friends go with his record to the people and not to the politicians."

Picnic Party in Storm.

The picnic party that spent Friday evening at McJimsey park had a thorough wetting before they reached their homes. They were having such a good time they did not notice how threatening were the clouds preceding the rain. When it began to sprinkle they ran to the shelter of a nearby shed, but before long the building was insufficient for a shelter, and the boys in the party went through the heavy rain and ordered a conveyance to bring the young ladies to their homes in Maryville. All report a fine time, notwithstanding the ladies were very much frightened at the severe electrical storm.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G.

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent without getting any lasting re-have found Peruna the only rem-

Chautauqua Features

Palmer's Kaffir Boys Choir

This company has won the admiration and wonder of audiences all over the world. The boys are all from savage tribes of Africa that have been civilized by the English. Their director and trainer, Mr. Palmer, was for a number of years a noted organist and Boy Choir trainer of England. He had to leave his native country on account of failing health. He went to British Africa and there discovered the wonderful sweetness and quality of the Kaffir boys voices, and organized this company to tour the world. He is under a heavy bond to the British government to return these boys safely to their homes after certain time. They will sing four different times at the Chautauqua, and while you are there listening to them you will hear Dr. Beckes, Father MacLeod and Thomas Brooks Fletcher.

This is only one of the excellent musical companies that will perform at the Chautauqua. Never before in the history of the Maryville Chautauqua has there been so many or such good companies engaged.
Not one speaker but has proven his ability to please at this or some other good Chautauqua. Not one cheap entertainer or musical company. And all of this excellent program may be heard for the small price of $1.50 adults or $1.00 children. Remember that the number of $1.50 tickets is limited and they must be bought before or on Aug. 5th.
Just one more week. Season tickets are transferable in the family.

It will pay to buy season tickets.

ASK TAFT TO VETO WOOL BILL

Number of Senators and Representatives Call at White House.

HOUSE DEMOCRATS ARE MIFFED

Indications That Conference Committee Will Not Accept La Follette Compromise Without Amending It. Cotton Bill Up in House.

Washington, July 29.—President Taft was urged by several Republican leaders of the senate and house to veto any wool revision bill that is likely to be agreed upon in the forthcoming conference on the house and La Follette compromise woolen measures.

Democratic leaders in the house formally conferred over plans to meet the senate's move in brushing aside the house wool bill and passing the La Follette compromise measure through a Democratic-progressive Republican coalition.

General sentiment among the Democratic representatives seemed to favor a compromise between the La Follette bill as it passed the senate and the house bill along the lines of a 30 per cent ad valorem on raw wool. A Republican counter move to concur with the senate bill was expected. This, however, would be overwhelmingly voted down by the house. The house Democrats are almost unanimous in the belief that a bill will be agreed upon in conference.

Urged to Veto Bill.

Senator Crane (Mass.), Representative Weeks (Mass.) and Representative Bartholdt (Mo.) were among the callers who advised the president to veto any wool bill likely to come from the forthcoming conference.

It was their belief, they said, that Mr. Taft would not injure himself in the eyes of the country by vetoing a wool revision bill not based on scientific data furnished by the tariff board. The congressmen advanced the idea that the coalition of insurgents and Democrats was an attempt to put the president "in a hole" politically. Executive disapproval of a measure designed for such a purpose they told the president, could not work to his discredit.

While the president himself maintains silence as to what course he will pursue if a wool revision bill is presented to him, the intimations are stronger that he will not hesitate to use the veto. This would put an end to all attempts to revise schedule K and would serve as a deterrent to revision of other tariff schedules at this time.

The house received the new compromise bill from the senate. No action was taken, the bill being laid on the speaker's table and the cotton tariff revision debate proceeded with.

REMSEN BOARD INQUIRY

House Committee Probing Body That Overruled Dr. Wiley's Decision.

Washington, July 29.—Investigation of the cost and work of the Remsen board, which reversed Dr. Harvey W. Wiley of the bureau of chemistry on the benzene of soda pure food decision, was begun before the house committee on expenditures of the department of agriculture. The same committee will also investigate the recent charges against Dr. Wiley. Two bull terriers, four monkeys, eight dog cages and an electric griddle, one horseshoe and a chiffonier were purchased during the last four years by the Remsen board, according to the testimony of Chief Zappone of the accounts division of the department of agriculture.

Representative Higgins of Connecticut of the committee insisted that the itemized expense accounts furnished the committee be printed before the committee started the hearings. Nothing further was accomplished and the committee adjourned till Tuesday.

He has named Mr. Straus a delegate to the third international congress for the protection of infants, to be held in Berlin on Sept. 11-15.

Mr. Straus has also been named as delegate from this government to the seventh congress against tuberculosis, which was to have been held in Rome on Sept. 24-30, but has been postponed until the spring on account of the cholera.

Mason and Stringer Testify in Lorimer Inquiry.

Washington, July 29.—Two senatorial aspirants from Illinois, William E. Mason, a Republican, and Lawrence B. Stringer, a Democrat, went on the stand before the senate Lorimer committee. Neither threw much light on the methods by which William Lorimer defeated them for the senatorial toga, but each made valuable contributions to the story of how the political game is run in Illinois.

In an optimistic way, former Senator William Mason told how the senatorial bee buzzed around him so long that he developed a chronic case of senatorial ambition.

Pessimistic and disheartened the Democratic candidate for senator in Illinois in 1909 expressed the opinion that his party in Illinois lacked cohesive force generally.

Mr. Stringer told of his fight "in splendid isolation" in the Illinois legislature for election to the senate, and of his never failing hope that he would land in the senate by an "accident." He gave some testimony about a "fourteen club" reputed to have been in the process of organization at one time to elect Hopkins to the senate by the use of money, and cited Charles E. Lake as a Democratic member of the legislature who said he had been invited to become a member.

Just how it happened that fifty-three Democrats voted for Lorimer making "the Democratic party an adjunct to a faction of the Republican party," Mr. Stringer testified he did not know, although he said he had an opinion, which the committee did not ask him to express. He gave the name of E. O. Phillips, then a reporter for the Chicago Record-Herald, as having told him once he had heard that a fund was being raised to elect Lorimer.

Mayor Harrison Refuses to Suspend Anti-Noise Ordinance.

Sabath, Pinkus Schouns was shot three times and perhaps fatally wounded by Frank Sovera, a striking peddler.

Schouns is a grocer and he was accused of buying fruit to turn over to a peddler. Sovera was arrested.

Oswego, Kan., July 29.—Two well developed cases of pellagra were found here by the secretary of the state board of health. The affected persons are a mother and her five-year-old daughter, who moved here from Manhattan two years ago.

Sole Survivor Washed Ashore.

Halifax, N. S., July 29.—The steamer John Irwin struck a rock and sank off Beaver Harbor. William McLeod of Halifax was washed ashore on a hatch at Liscomb, ninety miles east of here and is believed to be the only survivor of the dozen or more men in the steamer's crew.

Collide on Maine Road.

THIRTY OR FORTY INJURED.

Others Are Buried Beneath the Debris of Wreck and Both Firemen Are Missing—Trains Meet Head-On as Result of Confusion of Orders.

Bangor, Me., July 29.—Fifteen persons were reported killed in a head-on collision between an excursion train on the Bangor and Aroostock railroad and the midnight train from Van Buren to Bangor. Thirty or forty persons are known to have been injured and it is thought several others are beneath the wreckage. It is reported that the two trains met head-on as a result of the confusion of orders and that the excursion train was running on the time of the regular passenger train.

The smoking car of the excursion train, next to the engine, was telescoped by the tender. All the passengers in this car, most of whom were members of the Presque Isle band, are reported killed or badly wounded.

Engineer F. W. Garcelon of the excursion train was instantly killed. Engineer William Orr of the regular train was badly hurt. Both firemen are missing.

New York, July 29.—No ulterior motives lurked behind the taking over of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company by the United States Steel corporation during the financial panic of 1907, in the opinion of L. C. Hanna of Cleveland, one of the syndicate owners of the Tennessee concern before the merger, who spent the day on the witness stand, before the steel trust investigating committee of the house of representatives.

That such motives had been suggested, Mr. Hanna, who is a brother of the late Senator Mark Hanna, admitted, but he never had credited the reports. He believed the transaction was necessary to avert the failure of the New York banking and brokerage firm of Moore & Schley, who held too much Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral for loans, and to avert wide-spreading of threatening business disaster.

Dun's Review of Trade.

New York, July 29.—Dun's Weekly Review says: A variety of conflicting developments affect trade conditions, among them the passage of the Canadian reciprocity bill, unsettlement over the outcome of the negotiations touching the adjustment of affairs in Morocco and the decision by the interstate commerce commission in the Spokane rate and similar cases. These influences, however, are mainly of importance to their relations to the future. Moderate improvements mark conditions in iron and steel, although in eastern territory pig iron buying is of restricted volume.

Peaceable Settlement of Affairs in Morocco Probable.

TRYING DIRECT NEGOTIATIONS.

France and Germany Will Attempt to Agree Without Aid of Great Britain. French War Preparations Give Rise to Apprehension.

Paris, July 29.—Greater optimism prevailed at the capital, though it was admitted that the negotiations with Germany regarding the Moroccan affair remain difficult. The statement by Premier Asquith in the British house of commons and Premier Caillaux's advice to the French to keep cool and be prudent relieved the tension at a moment when relief was most needed and the discreet military preparations of the government were giving rise to the apprehension that war was not impossible.

These preparations included orders to the cavalry to be ready for the field at the first signal, the heavy provisioning of the forts on the eastern frontier by special supply trains run out of Paris at night and the mustering of all regiments to their full quota.

It is understood that Baron Kiderlin-Waechter, the German foreign secretary, who is conducting the negotiations with Jules Cambon, the French ambassador at Berlin, has modified his original program and is now asking for a part instead of the whole coast of French Congo, but at the same time naming other conditions which France would find difficulty in accepting. Nevertheless, there is a strong feeling that a solution will be found.

The morning papers welcome Mr. Asquith's speech as clarifying the situation and hastening a settlement. The Figaro understands that Emperor William told a personal friend that the Moroccan question could be settled amicably with France.

France Will Reorganize Army.

Rambouillet, France, July 29.—At the conclusion of the cabinet meeting, when President Fallieres presided, two official announcements were made. The first was that Foreign Secretary de Selves, in explaining to his colleagues the external political situation, had said that the pour parlers between France and Germany were proceeding normally. The second announcement was that the cabinet had decided on the reorganization of the army, which represents "the crowning of the military work pursued by the republic for the last forty years."

Berlin, July 29.—It is believed in official circles that France and Germany will be able to untie the African knot by direct negotiations and without opening the doors to the participation of Great Britain and the other powers of optimism, however, is not manifested. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg and Foreign Secretary Baron Kiderlin-Waechter left to join Emperor William, who arrived at Swinemunde from his cruise in northern waters.

Market Men Plan Outing.

Ottumwa, Ia., July 29.—Three hundred Ottumwa grocers and butchers will close up shop Aug. 10 and journey to Burlington to hold their annual picnic.

Forty.

Forty is the age at which a man is supposed to be in his prime.

Forty is old to a man of thirty and young to a man of fifty.

At forty some men quit sowing wild oats and others begin.

Forty is an imaginary line between youth and old age.

Some men are forty at twenty and some at sixty.

At forty a man is supposed to have reached years of discretion and generally he has, unless some woman wills it otherwise.

There are men of forty who believe it is unlucky for one to look over one's left shoulder at the new moon.

Men have been grandfathers at forty, and yet found it hard to obtain credit.

When a man is forty he begins to fear he may have married too early.

Forty is the age at which most men find it necessary to call for help when they try to put on their evening clothes.

At forty a man may continue to hope that there are hair restorers which will restore.

Mean Reply.

"Talk about man," exclaimed the suffragist. "What has man ever done for woman?"

"He's furnished her with a model she's trying hard to imitate," came a voice from the rear of the hall.—Boston Transcript.

Open Question.

"How long can a man go without air?"

"I can't say. The longest Pullman trip I ever took occupied seven days."

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Walker went to Kansas City Saturday morning for a two weeks' visit with friends.

SAGE AND SULPHUR CURES DANDRUFF

Restores Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color—Itching Scalp Quickly Stopped.

This applies to Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, for if it does not do exactly what is claimed for it, the sales would naturally drop off. However, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy does "make good," as evidenced by its daily increasing sales. Druggists say that this preparation gives the best satisfaction of any hair remedy ever sold. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It removes dandruff, strengthens the hair, gives new life to dull or parched hair and gradually restores gray hair to natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.
